THE CHINA MAIL.

HONGKONG, WEDNESDAY, MAY 31, 1876.

OUR notice of the report, prepared by the Secretary of the Hongkong Chamber of Commerce, on the newly-opened ports of Hoihow in Hainan, and Haiphong in Tonquin, is unavoidably held over through press of matter, until to-morrow.

WE are glad to learn that the efforts which have been made during the past week to raise subscriptions for a new bathing place have been very successful, and that thanks to the liberality of those gentlemen who have been specially appealed to, a sum of no less than twelv hundred dollars has already been promised. It is to be hoped that this will be supplemented by the subscriptions of a further large body of gentlemen, who, while wishing to further the project and to testify their interest in an undertaking the completion of which is very essential to the health and comfort of the inhabitants, do not feel in a position to subscribe in the same handsome manner that the heads of firms have done. We understand that a sum of three hundred dollars will be required before the Club can be in a position to erect an establishment sufficiently substantial to justify the liberality of the subscribers, and if it is clearly understood that the work will be carried out in a thorough business-like way, and that every care will be taken to render the foundations as secure as possible against the violence of the typhoons, this sum ought we think, judging from our past experience of Hongkong liberality, to be forthcoming. While on this subject we think we rightly in- each journal published at these places. terpret the wishes of the Community in expressing a hope that nothing will done hastily and without mature consideration. There is naturally a great desire to have something done at once but the sober sense of the community would deprecate any hasty action merely the Library. Though of considerable age for the sake of having something at once, the writing is as clear as if penned yester. when a little reflection might result in a more matured and better considered scheme than the mere impulse of the moment would suggest. We understand, for instance, that the site proposed is the same as that occupied by the former establishment. There is no doubt it is true that this is casteris paribus by far the most convenient and accessible site that could amicable settlement of this affair by a be selected, but it must be rememb red that the drainage from the Military Barracks tigation of the Kinshan case, is thereby is emptied into the harbour not far from this place, and at any rate before selecting this site we think the Military could be done to obviate this nuisance. In a matter in which the whole community is interested, the Military Authorities would, we are satisfied. do all that lies in their power to meet the wishes of the Community, and there could not be a better time than present for inviting their assistance when the engineering difficulties that would have to be overcome in arranging some other outlet for this drainage would be encountered and dealt with by the zeal and ability of the present Commanding lives been lost. Royal Engineer. However, whatever conclusion is ultimately arrived at, we are happy to think that the present by a sincere desire to do its best for the interests of the Members the Club, and we hope in time to

PRESS. The Press points out that the jury summoned on the 18th May for the Criminal Sessions now proceeding or rather adjourning have their duties extended until the 3rd June, and they may then possibly be still further protracted. During this period of nearly three weeks thirty gentlemen detained in the Colony and could not leave it without special permission. At intervals of a few days the whole of them have to turn up at the Court, and there spend perhaps half an hour of the most valuable part of the day until they ascertain their fate, when seven of them will be detained for an indefinite time. This state of things is chiefly brought about by the Magistrates committing cases to the Sessions while the latter are proceeding. ### LOCAL AND GENERAL

WE hold over our report of the Amoys Regatta till to-morrow.

At the Marine Court to-day, Ho-you, a junk master, was fined $2 00 or 4 days' imprisonment for anchoring in the fairway, and not moving when requested to do so.

THE adjourned inquest on the body of Chew Pik To, the concubine of Wan Hiu Seung was resumed this afternoon. Sergeant. Yip Anam stated that he had falled to find out where the deceased bought the opium. The Jury returned a verdiet of death from an overdose of oplum self-administered, and that there was no evidence to shew whence it had been obtained.

CONFIRMATORY news has been received from Canton in reference to the rising of the Hakkes in Hok-shan and Ko-ming. The rebellion has spread to the adjacent districts, and the Hsien city of Sun Hing is now under siege. The elders and gentry of the two first named districts have issued a proclamation, requesting the natives of those places in employ at Canton to return home at once in order to form themselves into a militia for the protection of their homes. The situation of the Mandarina at Canton is described as critical.

A most valuable set of works has just been placed in the loan department of the City Hall Library, vis. a file of the London Times in bound volumes from 1853 to 1871. The newspaper department in this institution is by no means its least useful feature, free copies of all local publications being supplied, -though Japan and Shanghai, by the way, have strangely refused to sid the Library in this matter, although application has been made to the proprietors of We may note also that the velium roll of the Hebrew Pentateuch brought from the Chinese Jewish Colony of Kai-fung-foo, and belonging to St. Paul's College, has by permission of the Bishop been placed in

The passage-boat cut down was valued at $345; a smaller boat wrecked was assessed at $30 and the stern of another passage-boat, which was broken, was set down at $25making in all a sum of $400. Our correspondent "A. B. clerk in the office of the Hongkong & Committee appears to be animated Whampos Dock Company, made an attempt on his life this forencen. He is an important witness in the conspiracy case lately committed to the Supreme Court, wherein Mr Duncan and Mr Rozario are concerned; and the incident has tended considerably to increase the public interest felt in the development of the system of business now arraigned before our criminal and other Courts. It appears that Mr Addyman attended office to-day as usual, but having gone out, seems to have made an attempt to out his throat, and subsequently ran to Dr. -Young for assistance. Dr. Young at once took the patient to the Government Civil Hospital, where he now remains under guard. In view of the position of the unfortunate men towards those concerned in the case alluded to nothing can be said regarding his motive for so unaccountable an act. The patient is progressing favourably and is now out of danger, as his wind-pipe has not been seriously injured. He is quite sensible, but is suffering from depression of spirits, and has been necessarily kept quiet since his admission into Hospital.

> Court, Mr Kingsmill referred to the case of Richard Banner Oakley, of the Cosoperas tive Credit Bank, who was charged with frauds to the extent of over £10,000. The case was remanded several times, and during the remand he was refused ball, but the moment the case was committed, he was allowed bail in his personal recognisance in

His Lordship asked if Mr Kingsmill applied for lectiorari and habeas corpus. Mr Kingsmill replied that he must, as there would otherwise be no information before the Court, the depositions not being here. The depositions were too lengthy for Mr Kingsmill to file an affidavit on, and he made the application for lectionari that the same might be returned to this Court. He would also apply for a habeas corpus, when Mr Duncan would be brought up, with the proposed sureties in attendance. In reply | judgment. to the Court, Mr Kingsmill said the prisoner was committed on two charges, one for conspiracy to do a civil wrong and one for a misdemeanor. Mr Kingsmill observed that the first charge was conspiracy to do a civil wrong, which might have been made the subject of an action in a civil suit, and it would not have been criminal but for the conspiracy. As regards the second charge, the amount Involved was from $8,000 to $10,000 or at most $12,000. The application for a lectiorari was then granted, and the writ of habeas corpus was made returnable at 10.30 a.m. on Friday

A very successful entertainment was given at the Sailors' Home yesterday evening. The room was well filled. Most of the officers and men residing at the Home and them extracted from the Liverpool Advermany also from vessels in harbour, with not a few friends, including some ladies, from town were present. Captain Thomsett, R.N., Harbour Master, one of the Trustees, presided, and concluded his opening remarks amid loud applause when he stated that this was the first of a series of entertainments got up by desire of the men, and from time to time others were to follow. Appreciative and at times almost uprogrious applause greeted each reading or song, proving that the programms was highly acceptable. First came a most instructive, and at the same time highly interesting reading by Mr Lister, giving the history of the people of "Do as you like." This was followed by Mr Arthur's well-rendered and appropriate song "The Skipper and his Boy." The Rev. A. B. Hutchinson's amusing account of 'a Michaelmas Dinner," succeeded by Mr Cope's Sole on the Vicloncello and Mrs Cope's accompaniment on the Piano, were highly appreciated-so too was Mr Carlton's song. Rounds of applause followed Mr Jasper's American yarn selected from Mack Twain's works. The boy Warren's song "What is home without a mother?" was well and clearly sung. Mr Cooke's patriotic Scotch song secured him an encore, for which by special request he saug " Ring the bell watchman," the chorus being well taken up by the audience. After a few minutes interval 5 of the Royal Artillery Ohristy Minstrels gave a portion of their well-known entertainment. Each song was well sung, perhaps the selection was somewhat sentimental, but any melancholy feelings were always at once driven away by some suitable joke before they had time to sensibly affect any one. "Bones" and "Tambour" were as usual full of fun and old "Parchment" was in good form. Special thanks are due to Mr Cope for his kind help on the piano whenever an accompaniment was needed .- Communicated.

THE cases before the Summary Jurisdiction Court to-day were few and chiefly uninteresting. Most of them were either settled out of Court or adjourned. The only one of any moment was a claim for damages of $20 by Mr H. W. Davis against Capt, Butlin, the master of the steamer Orchis. Mr Sharp appeared for the plaintiff and Mr Brereton for the defendant. Mr Sharp, in opening the case for the plaintiff, said this was an action brought to recover $20 for damage done to the contents of a case of private effects shipped on board. The action was not brought for the sake of the value of the property, which was a mere bagatelle, but for the principle of the thing. Some time ago, Mr Davis, the managing partner of Purdon & Co., received advice of the shipment of a case of private effects by the steamer Orchis, of which the defendant is the master, and the bill of lading was in the usual form, On arrival of the steamer Mr Davis sent his godown coolie on board to fetch the case, but was unable to obtain delivery, although he went three or four times, the mate informing him that the case was in the hold and had not yet been got at. On the day the steamer was leaving, the godown man went again, but was told that it was still unobtainable, and that if turned up, it would be sent to the office of by Dr. Pottinger's promotion to the rank of the agents, Messis Pustau & Co. Shadwell, commander-in-chief on the in great confusion. Letters were torn album was out of its place. A tin case, which was supposed to contain Scotch buns, was broken and was in the shape it now appeared in Court. Mr Davis then applied at once to Mesers Pusten, both by letter to Egrpt. and in person, and the reply he got was an expression of regret, and a promise to make a searching enquiry on the return of the ateamer. When the steamer returned, i r Davis applied to the Captain, the defendant, but could obtain no satisfaction; hence this action, which was not brought for the sake of the intrinsic value of the articles but on public grounds. Primage had been paid for the box and extra care should have been taken of it. Itappeared, moreover, that there Affinities with that of the Aryan and were other instances of private effects being tampered with. Mr Brereton replied that delivery had been accepted by the plaintiff, Ehenghai, will shortly be published.

Mr Sharp contended that the second clause passengers and mails would be most serious; in the bill of lading would meet the case. but the Peninsular and Oriental Company, The simple point was whether the Court | with characteristic promptness, have desmitted on board. The defendant was liable | the finest vessel of their fleet, to the relief. for the safety of anything entrusted to his Mails and passengers will be transferred,
